AIMZ Chairman's Foreword

The GroWealth Survey during 2021 continued to grow in strength as most participating members witnessed a significant increase in enquires and uptake in unit trust investments.

The investor education, transparency, and disclosures that the GroWealth Survey provides has made it easier for the investing public, especially beginners and small investors, to make informed decisions around the unit trust investment universe available to them, as well as each funds' risk and return profile.

As the Association of Investment Managers Zimbabwe (AIMZ) we remain committed to the GroWealth Survey and will continue to work with all other stakeholders to ensure the survey expands through the addition of new funds, in-depth analyses, and increased frequency of publication.

As we work towards the National Financial Inclusion Strategy 2 (NFIS 2), which will run from 2021 to 2025, we believe that GroWealth has a significant role to play in terms of national financial inclusion.

The future of unit trusts in Zimbabwe, has also been strengthened by the promulgation of SI 240 of 2019 which broadened asset classes under collective investment schemes to include commodity funds, exchange traded funds, private equity funds, property funds, real estate investment trust scheme (REITS) and venture capital funds. We therefore believe as AIMZ that the new collective investment schemes will contribute immensely to financial inclusion and the GroWealth Survey, as they provide small retail investors with exposure to new asset classes, that may offer better hedging and investment return opportunities.

Restoring the country's investing and savings culture remains a challenge given the loss of value of financial assets that has taken place, over the last two decades.

As AMZ we continue lobby and encourage government to implement best practice macroeconomic policies, that contribute positively to economic growth and stability which are critical for the stability of the country's financial system.

The previous cycles of Hyperinflation have eroded confidence in the country's financial system, which has negatively impacted financial inclusion.

Farai Gwaka

In addition, the statutory costs of operating and listing collective investment schemes remain relatively high as compared to regional and international peers, which therefore reduces the overall returns for investors and limits participation amongst small investors.

We believe as AIMZ that lower overall statutory and operational fees for collective investment schemes will enhance their attractiveness to small investors, going forward, which will contribute positively to financial inclusion.

Despite these challenges we as AIMZ, remain optimistic about the prospects of GroWealth, and expect to see this publication grow each year as new funds are launched to the benefit of the investing public.

Unit Trust Investors Enjoyed a Bumper Harvest in 2021

Investors in unit trust funds enjoyed bumper returns in 2021, as most Unit Trust Funds outpaced the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) All Share index and inflation in the full year ended 31 December 2021.

The performance was driven by a bullish trend on the ZSE, which advanced 310.51% in 2021, surpassing inflation and currency depreciation. In addition, most Fund Managers outpaced this average growth on the ZSE attributable to superior stock selection.

The GroWealth Survey shows that the returns from Unit Trust funds that invest in listed equities grew between 256% and 494% in the year ended 31 December 2021 while for balanced funds, which can invest in a wide range of investment securities, the returns ranged between 113% and 541% in the comparable period.

On the other hand, the money market funds offered yields ranging between 23% and 70% in the comparable period.

In line with the multi-currency policy framework, some Fund Managers are now offering foreign currency denominated (USD) unit trust funds to cater for those investors with hard currency or nostro balances.

This is also supported by the emergence of the Victoria Falls Stock Exchange (VFEX) where investors buy and sell shares in hard currency and has now seen four companies being listed.

To add to investor options, there are now three Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) listed on the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE).

ETFs are similar to unit trusts in that they operate as collective investment schemes and offers investors a portfolio of underlying investments.

Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs), another category of Collective Investments Schemes registered by the Securities and Exchange Commission of Zimbabwe (SECZ), are expected to come on stream soon and listed on securities exchanges and should give even small investors an opportunity to invest in property, albeit indirectly.

Already two REITs have been licensed.

The fundamental goal of the GroWealth Unit Trust Survey is to keep members abreast of the performance of different unit trust products.

Investors can follow how each of the Unit Trust Funds is performing from time to time by going through the GroWealth monthly reports.

For those investors who are already invested in one or more unit trusts, they would have been receiving regular statements, newsletters and updates from their respective fund managers.

The GroWealth Survey report shows the performances of all the active funds across different time intervals and this gives investors the required perspective on the medium to long-term investment performances of the various funds. This is the key element to decision-making for any investor.

Unit trusts are investment schemes that pool funds from different investors and invest according to pre-defined objectives set out in the Prospectus of the Fund (available upon request).

The underlying investments can be in fixed income instruments, listed equities, property or other alternative investments.

Fidelity equities fund outpaces inflation, ZSE

Tapiwanashe Mangwiro
Senior Business Reporter

THE Fidelity Growth Fund outpaced both inflation and Zimbabwe Stock Exchange (ZSE) All Share Index performance to record the best return on investment of 60.92 percent between January and February.

The equities fund registered strong performance last year, after gaining 49.416 percent, the highest of any managed fund in the general equities funds category.

According to the Securities and Exchange

Commission of Zimbabwe's Gro Wealth February report, the Fidelity Growth Fund saw returns of 30.25 percent in the first month of the year and jumped a further 30.67 percent in February. The fund has made a strong start to the year despite gaining just 16.99 percent in December. Investors in the Fidelity fund have had a good start to the year as their 60.92 percent return was above the 38.51 percent gain recorded by the ZSE All Share Index in the same period.

The fund also outperformed the Top 10

index, which closed February with gains of 46.13 percent and inflation, which increased by 12.71 percent for the two months.

Returns on the Fidelity Growth Fund have been highly competitive over the years, with the profits having compared favourably to inflation and other benchmarks.

Robert Mugonera, the Fidelity fund manager said, "These investments are easily accessible to the average citizen with a minimum investment of $10 000. Our funds are highly liquid and disinvestments are processed within 3 working days.

"We maintain a rigorous top-down approach that takes into account the broader economic context and applies it to specific assets. We use a systematic combination of valuation models and relative pricing multiples to determine fair value estimates of assets."

On what distinguishes their funds from others in the market, Mr Mugonera said their investment securities had been in existence since 2001, surviving the turbulence that befell the local economy in the last two decades.

FUND OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund is constructed to actively participate in high yielding local money market assets and thus offers competitive money market rates for investors with relatively short investment tenures. The fund will have 100% exposure to money market securities.

The risk of investing in this fund is mitigated by fund placement at the short end of the market (30 to 90 day tenures). Before money market placements are done, the fund seeks investment approval for the pool of securities which can be subscribed for via internal investment committee approval processes.

The strategy of the fund is to outperform prevailing commercial bank lending rates, treasury bill offers and other plain vanilla money market securities.

WHO IS THE FUND FOR?

The fund is targeted at individuals with a low-risk tolerance who are interested in earning a reasonable return for excess cash balances they hold. The minimum investment period is 60 days although the fund manager encourages an investment horizon of between 90 days to 180 days to enhance the return profile of the fund. The fund does offer liquidity at short notice and is thus flexible for short-term cash call demands.

The fund has a minimum deposit currently pegged at ZW$10,000.

FUND OBJECTIVE AND STRATEGY

The fund is intended to match the performance of the Zimbabwe Stock Exchange and any other local exchange that the fund invested in. The fund will have 100% exposure to equities which are by their very nature the riskiest asset class.

In order to minimise this risk for the retail investor, equity picks for this Fund are done based on the expertise of the First Mutual Wealth Management research team and is subject to oversight from First Mutual Wealth Management's (FMWM) internal governance processes as well as regulatory surveillance from the Securities and Exchange Commission of Zimbabwe.

The ultimate objective of the fund is to offer capital appreciation and dividend income returns which cumulatively award the investor with returns that are above inflation and at least match the average returns of Zimbabwe's publicly listed equities securities.

WHO IS THE FUND FOR?

The fund is targeted at risk tolerant retail investors who are interested in participating in the returns of the local equities. The minimum investment period is 1 year though the fund manager encourages an investment horizon of between three to five years to enjoy the full benefits of the equity's asset class. The fund however does offer liquidity at short notice and is thus flexible for short term savings.

The fund works best through an initial lump sum deposit, currently pegged at ZWL$10,000 which can then be followed up by monthly contributions to enhance the investors' savings and return profile.

INVESTOR PROTECTION FUND: Unclaimed shares portfolio

The Investor Protection Fund (IPF) was established to compensate investors for losses caused by a licensed contributor.

The liabilities may arise as a result of insolvency or malpractice. Investor protection is at the heart of the IPF such that it also has oversight on the Unclaimed Shares Portfolio which was established in 2013.

Like the IPF the Unclaimed Shares Portfolio was created to improve security and confidence in the capital markets as well as to bring local markets in line with global trends.

The Securities and Exchange Commission of Zimbabwe (SECZ) carried out onsite and off-site inspections of securities dealing firms, reviewing their business operations, from 2009 through to 2012. The inspections revealed a number of irregularities in the manner securities dealing firms were handling scrip related issues.

In view of the irregularities, SECZ issued a directive instructing all securities dealing firms to, within 60 days, register all shares under Nominees in the name of the respective owners and deliver them to the clients.

In the event that the owner cannot be located then the securities dealing firm would deposit the shares with a licenced custodian. Securities dealing firms were no longer allowed to hold shares.

In January 2013, SECZ directed all securities dealing firms to physically deposit all uncollected shares with Old Mutual Custodial Services and ZB Custodial Services. This action resulted in the creation of the Unclaimed Shares Portfolio, over which the IPF has oversight.

The two unclaimed shares custodians were later requested to dematerialise the shares in order to reduce custodial costs and audit issues. The portfolio was later transferred to Chengetedzai Depository Company (CDC) who completed the dematerialisation exercise.

As at 31 December 2020 the portfolio had 19,974 share certificates. Between 2019 and 2020, 765 share certificates were collected from the Unclaimed Shares Portfolio. Collections slowed down in 2020 and 2021 maybe due to the disruption to business caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Members of the public can search the unclaimed shares database via the SECZ website (<https://seczim.co.zw/unclaimed-shares/>).

To make a collection please contact CDC on 0782703279/81 or visit 4 Gloucester Close, Eastlea, Harare or alternatively contact Comarton Consultants (Private) Limited, the Fund Administrator, on 0242770025.

PLATINUM INVESTMENT MANAGERS PVT LTD

influence the future

Platinum Balanced Fund

1. What is the Platinum Balanced Fund

It is an efficiently diversified investment portfolio, actively managed across equities, fixed income and money market securities. The portfolio seeks to optimize risk and stabilize earnings while delivering measured capital appreciation in the long-term.

2. Investment Objective

- To provide an exposure to a long-term investment strategy that is cushioned against the violent fluctuations of an aggressive all stock investment.
- To deliver a blend of growth and safety and the ability to generate income while being able to grow capital.
- To arrange an exposure to the relatively high money market yields in Zimbabwe and the bounty growth prospects in equity investments in the country.

3. Key Characteristics of the Balanced Fund

- Smoothing – The predetermined return attributes and low volatility of fixed and money market components should provide consistency of returns albeit at reduced potential.
- Active Management – Tactical bands around the Strategic Asset Allocation allow the manager to shift the “satellite” and take advantage of changes in views regarding asset classes, whilst retaining the core.
- Bottom Up Fundamentals Approach – Both the equity and debt elements of the portfolio will be selected and managed on the basis of thorough analysis of their underlying economic earning power and long-term return in investment.
- Value Investing – While the fundamental basis of the investment strategy identifies good investment targets, the fund’s emphasis for value should ensure that the investments are purchased at the right price

4. Case for Investing in the Platinum Balanced Fund

- Liquidity: With an optimal proportion of liquid investments, the portfolio retains the ability to participate in the potential higher returns of less liquid investments.
- Balance between Income and Growth: The hybrid structure manages both the inflation risk in the money market and the capital impairment risk in the capital market.
- Combination of Fundamental and Active Investment: The portfolio targets an optimum asset mix of high quality, low volatile equities and an appropriate blend of fixed income securities.

5. Platinum Balanced Fund?

Opportunities

High potential return due to superlative fundamental research and active portfolio management founded on a disciplined research and investment process.

Abnormal risk adjusted returns driven by rising demand for capital propelled by the general economic recovery unfolding in Zimbabwe.

Provide access to both the capital growth potential of equity exposure and optimal volatility and improved liquidity induced by the money market component.

Risks

The equity component of the fund is subject to daily price fluctuations, even to levels below the purchase price. This risk is magnified in the short-term.

Portfolio returns are exposed to general market factors (politics, opinions, sentiments). In Zimbabwe, the political sensitivity of the equity market is of considerable magnitude and may inhibit real potential of equity market returns.

Money market instruments are exposed to counterparty risk, which is the risk of the asset issuer failing to honour their obligations at asset maturity. This risk can be reduced through diversification.

The fund is composed of a concentrated collection of carefully chosen assets at any point in time. Therefore, the fund is subject to concentration risk.
